

Society Attends Army-Navy Game.

By MILDRED MARSHALL KOONCE.

FASHIONABLE Washington migrated to New York for the Army and Navy game. The exodus of smart society by motor and train, beginning Wednesday, swelled to enormous proportions on Friday, and the week-end finds the Capital well-nigh deserted. The polo grounds in New York blossomed yesterday with distinguished spectators representing the choicest flower of officialdom and the service, re-enforced by the smartest society of the Metropolis itself and of nearby cities. Tomorrow the tide of travel will turn again to Washington, but today New York still claims her visitors and entertains them with house parties and the quiet hospitalities which are adapted to the Sabbath.

Great regret was felt over the absence of the President and Mrs. Wilson from the game yesterday afternoon, owing to the indisposition of the former. It would have been the first opportunity offered to New York to see and greet the President since his re-election and enthusiasm would, no doubt, have mounted high.

The Cabinet was brilliantly represented by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing (accompanied by their attractive young niece, Miss Natalie Dulles), the Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker, and the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels. Secretary and Mrs. Lansing were joined in New York by Mr. and Mrs. John Foster Dulles, and among their other guests at the game were the Assistant Attorney General and Mrs. Charles Warren.

Secretary and Mrs. Baker had an interesting group of guests from Cleveland with them in their box, among them being Mr. and Mrs. John Stockwell, Jr., who will return with their hosts to Washington for a visit of several days; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stage, Dr. and Mrs. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Osborne, Miss Myrta Jones and Mrs. George Sherwin. The sons of the Secretary and Mrs. Daniels, who were among the most enthusiastic spectators in other years, did not accompany their parents on this occasion, as the date of the game fell before school holidays. The Misses Burleson went over for the game and are spending the week-end with friends in New York.

The army and navy set was transplanted almost en masse and dreary places were the barracks and army posts around Washington these past two days. Distinguished among the Army spectators were Gen. and Mrs. Hugh L. Scott, who motored over and had with them at the game their daughter, Miss Blanchard Scott, former Secretary of War and Mrs. Lindley M. Garrison, Mrs. Charles Henry, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Proctor, of Utica; Gen. Elbert Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E.

Perry, of Chicago, and Dr. and Mrs. David Stockton, of Princeton. In a box on the Navy side were Rear Admiral and Mrs. William H. Benson with Senator and Mrs. Beckham, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rose, of Geneva, N. Y.; Commander and Mrs. Pearson, of New York; Mrs. W. P. Wyse, and Lieut. Benson.

Gen. and Mrs. George Barnett were in the boxes, as were also Col. and Mrs. Clement A. F. Flagler, Col. and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson entertained a party of guests which included Rear Admiral and Mrs. Seaton Schroeder, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Wainwright, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, of Chicago, and Miss Sykes.

The debutantes are having a brilliant week-end in New York where they are being feted in the round of festivities which follows the game while the clan is still assembled. Miss Margaret Fahnestock, who is soon to make her debut at the Capital, was present at the game. Miss Nellie Johnson, Miss Imogene Young, Miss Amy Bennett, Miss Lydia Chapin, and Miss Reeve Harris are among other buds of the season who are sojourning in New York for a day or so with their parents or chaperones. Miss Anita Kite went over for the game and Miss Esther Whiting stopped off in New York for the day en route to Boston. The Misses Chase, Miss Natalie Driggs, and Miss Margaret Read are other belles of the younger set who attended the game.

Cosmetics Not Needed; Peel the Skin Instead

One reason mercurized wax is so strongly recommended is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time, patience and expense. It is better than any cleansing cream, better than any massage cream, and better than any rouge, for accomplishing the results for which such articles are used. Mercurized wax actually absorbs an old, faded or discolored complexion, a little each day, the underlying skin which gradually appears, is clearer, softer, healthier-hued and more youthful than any cosmetic-made complexion. Spreading on a thin coat of this wax at night, washing it off mornings in a week or so produces a marvelous transformation. Just one ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will do the work. There's nothing better to remove freckles, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, blotches, pimples or blackheads. For wrinkles and loose, saggy skin, a face bath made by dissolving one ounce of powdered salicylic acid in a half pint of witch hazel, is the best thing that can be recommended. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties.—Adv.
